

ANCCI University
Amarillo, Texas

College of Religious Education

Course Syllabus In

Course Number : RED 502
Course Title : Foundation of Education II
Course Description : This course introduces prospective teachers to the complex of the teaching process. It deals specifically with the principles associated with the different instruction and curricular management

Prerequisite : RED 501
Unit Credit : 3 units
Credit Hours : 3 hours per week

Objectives:

At the end of the semester, the students are expected to:

1. become familiar with the different philosophical outlooks that have influenced educational theory and practice;
2. clarify the students thinking capacities and lead to a retirement of philosophical ideas;
3. gain ideas from philosophy that may develop into the solution of education problems; and
4. appreciate the aspirations of each nationalities especially in education.

Course Content

Course Objectives or Learning Outcomes	Content	Teaching Strategies	Evaluation
1. Determine the philosophical foundations of education its areas of philosophy and sources of one's educational philosophy 2. Discuss your country's philosophical orientation	1. Philosophy and education 2. Philosophical orientation in your own Country	1. Internet research about your Philosophical orientation in your country	Essay Term Exam
1. Identify the legal bases of education 2. Discuss the organization and structure of the System 3. Distinguish the curricula of your schools in your area	1. Legal basis of education 2. Organization and structure of System 3. The curricula in your area	Reading Research Writing a term paper	Essay Periodic Exams

References:

Ozmon, Howard et al., Philosophical Foundation of Education
Englewood Cliff, New Jersey: Charles Meril Publishing Co. 1995

Bauzon, Presciliano T. Fundamental Philosophies of Education
Mandaluyong City Phil: National Book Store 1994

Elevazo, Aurelio O. Philosophy of Education, Mandaluyong City Phil:
National Book Store 1995

www.bigchalk.com
<http://11school.ef.com>
www.fordham.edu